A message from our CEO:

Here at Matrix Training Group (Matrix), we are committed to supporting motivated individuals through their training and job-seeking journey. Our goal is to connect the right people with the right workplace training. This is the only way to produce the most satisfying outcomes for all involved – employees, employers and individuals who want to return to the workforce.

For organisations who value top-quality education for their people, our nationally recognised training keeps personnel on top of industry changes and boosts your competitive edge. Your continuous improvement is also our success – and our reason for being.

I personally welcome the opportunity to serve as your training partner, no matter what your training goals. So, let me tell you why Matrix should be your number one choice for training ...

Matrix aims to provide the highest quality workplace training and assessment in Australia and around the world. Matrix is well on the way to becoming an industry leader in the Vocational Education Training sector. With our expertise in identifying and solving training needs, you can be sure your training is being delivered by the best in the business.

For more information on our specialist services, I invite you to peruse this brochure and our website (www.matrixtraininggroup.com). I would be happy to discuss any questions you may have about your training requirements.

Remember, with Matrix, 'anything's possible!'.

Yours sincerely

Mark Sedhom, CEO

Courses and Programs

The products and services provided by Matrix include Nationally Accredited Training Programs, expert HR & recruitment services, Training Needs Assessment, and much more.

Nationally accredited training programs

These courses are designed as the standard entry-level to the experienced level qualification to suit many types of industries.

Short Course Programs

Short course programs are suited to individuals with prior qualifications or experience wanting to gain knowledge without committing to a long course. Matrix delivers Nationally Accredited Training programs as short day, evening and weekend courses. Currently, there are over 100 courses available.

Customised Training Packages

These training packages are specifically designed for the corporate client. Matrix Training Consultants can analyse the training needs of your organisation and craft a tailored program to fill the knowledge gaps. We offer flexible delivery, from single-day sessions to longer courses, depending on your requirements. All training material has been approved by the State Training Board and is nationally recognised.

Team Building & Outdoor Adventure Training

For the corporate client, this is a hands-on training program held over a full day or more. The focus of this program is to build a culture of teamwork and respect among colleagues or departments within an organisation. The Adventure can be designed to fit your company's requirements so that it delivers the outcomes you're seeking.

Business Consulting

Discover the advantage of having your own business consultant who is a specialist in their field. Matrix offers business consulting services through a network of experienced professionals who can energise your business goals. All consultants bring solid expertise in their industry and have a minimum of 5 years' experience.

“ anything’s possible! ”

Coaching & Personal Development

Realise your full potential with our coaching and personal development programs. Matrix's network of consultants includes accredited Counselors, Psychologists and Human Behaviour specialists, such as Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP) Practitioners. With Matrix, you can find the supportive environment you need.

Training Needs Analysis & Reporting

For employers, Matrix can expertly identify skill and knowledge gaps in your organisation. Through programs such as our 'Corporate Health Check', 'Mystery Shopping' and 'Staff Satisfaction Surveys', we can pinpoint what training is required to bring your people up to speed – and bring more profits to your business.

Student Tutoring (for secondary school students)

Matrix provides one-on-one tutoring in all senior curriculum subjects, from Mathematics to the Humanities. Our qualified tutors understand that school students can sometimes struggle in the face of academic and life challenges. These experienced, caring professionals are empathetic to the learning needs of students.

A comprehensive list of all Nationally Accredited Training Programs and MATRIX services can be found on our website.
